 - Publius
 - Julius
 - Cleophas
 - Jairus
- Paul advised them that the trip would be... (Acts 27:10)
 - Easy, as God has promised that He will spare us.
 - Dangerous.
 - With danger and much heavy loss of the cargo.
 - With danger and much heavy loss, not only of the cargo and the ship, but also of our lives.
- Where was this crew planning to spend the winter? (Acts 27:12)
 - Phenice
 - Lasea
 - Salmone
 - Fair Haven
- After they had lowered the sea anchor, what did they do on the next day? (Acts 27:17, 18)
 - They began to throw cargo overboard.
 - They began to load up the life raft.
 - They began to take pieces off the ship to use for rafts.
 - They began to cast lots to see who it was on the ship that was bringing this misfortune to them.
- What had they not seen for many days that made them abandon hope of being saved? (Acts 27:20)
 - the migratory birds
 - the sun or the stars
 - land
 - other ships

6. Paul was confident to tell the men that they would be saved because... (Acts 27:22-24)
- An angel had told him that it would be so.
 - He could see the sky clearing from the west.
 - He saw land.
 - He felt that he should try to be an encouragement to them.
7. How many days were the men without food? (Acts 27:33)
- three
 - seven
 - fourteen
 - twenty-one
8. What did Paul do to try to encourage the men to eat? (Acts 27:34-36)
- Nothing
 - He just kept reminding them of what the angel had said.
 - He just kept reminding them of God's goodness to their ancestors.
 - He took bread, thanked God, broke it and began to eat.
9. How many people were on the ship? (Acts 27:37)
- We are not told.
 - One hundred and fifty-three
 - Two hundred and seventy-six

10. What happened to the anchors that they cast off? (Acts 27:40)
- They floated.
 - They put markers on them so they could retrieve them later.
 - As one fell, it struck the captain and he died.
 - They were left in the sea.
11. What did the centurion order the men who could swim to do? (Acts 27:43)
- Jump over the side and see if they could find the anchors that had been cast off.
 - Each one to swim beside a non-swimmer to help them.
 - Not to leave the ship until they were sure that the non-swimmers were tied to the life rafts.
 - Jump overboard first and make for land.
12. What was the name of the island that the ship landed on? (Acts 28:1)
- Celicia
 - Melita
 - Crete
