Aftermath of Hurricane Michael:

From Ministerial Services:

We wanted to give all of you an update on the aftermath of Hurricane Michael as it made landfall at Mexico Beach, Florida (very near Panama City, Florida) just two days ago. Our pastor in Georgia, Mark Winner, said that all of the members in the Macon and Atlanta areas are fine. There is one couple from Panama City, Florida, that is yet unaccounted for (likely due to cell service being out in that part of Florida—however, Harold Rhodes is trying to get hold of them).

Below are the latest reports from our pastors who care for the congregations in DeFuniak Springs and Tallahassee, Florida.

Harold Rhodes—Pastor, DeFuniak Springs, Florida (Thursday, Oct. 11):

“I wanted to get this update to you early this morning, even though I have not yet heard from one couple who live in Panama City, Florida, who chose to ‘ride it out.’ I do hope and pray they are okay. I’ve called and left messages on their mobile phone twice, but have not received a response thus far. Everyone else is accounted for. Members affected have reported many trees down and no power, but no damage to their homes. Ron and Lora DeGagne, who live in Malone, Florida, reported this morning that their business office in Marianna had minimal damage. They are still ‘trapped’ and cannot get out from where they live in Malone. Lora did say there is a farmer nearby who will hopefully use his big equipment to push all of the oak and pecan trees aside so they can get out before long.

“It is doubtful we will be able to hold Sabbath services in DeFuniak Springs tomorrow. It’s not that I can’t get to the building where we meet, but most of the members can’t get there from points north and east because the major highways are still covered with debris. I checked with the police department in DeFuniak Springs yesterday, and they said Interstate 10 from DeFuniak Springs is closed for a distance of 80 miles east towards Tallahassee. The panhandle is full of tall pine trees, many of which were blown down, some across the interstate and other major highways.

“I just got off the phone with a member who lives in Westville, Florida, who said they are okay, but her son, who works for the power company, told her that they will be without power for as much as two weeks! They have a generator, but she said ‘it’s acting up.’ I offered any assistance we might give, and she said they were fine for now. Our oldest member, Gerald Bull, lives in DeFuniak Springs. The local police in DeFuniak Springs look in on him each morning to see if he's okay. I thanked them for their service in checking on him each day when I talked with them yesterday.

"That's about it for now. My biggest worry is the couple in Panama City. I'll let you know as soon as I hopefully hear from them."

Gary McConnaughey—Pastor, Tallahassee, Florida (Thursday, Oct. 11):

"I've been in contact with our local elder, Fred Davidson, and our deacon, Joel Waterhouse. Joel has been able to contact all the members, and everyone is safe. There are many in the Tallahassee area without power. No one that I am aware of has suffered any significant damage to their homes. Some have evacuated to other locations and have not been back to the area yet. Our elder, Fred Davidson, and his wife, Sandra, evacuated to a town north of them in Georgia. The eye of the storm went right over the city where they were staying. He was able to return home this morning to inspect his property. He is without power and will go to a nearby hotel that has power. There is much debris everywhere, but Fred's home didn't suffer damage.

"I will provide further updates as I become aware of the needs and circumstances. I have canceled services in Tallahassee this week, but will have them in Ocala. God was merciful to our members."
