Winter Family Weekend 2018:

This year’s Winter Family Weekend is just weeks away. Many of the same activities that have provided families with such an enjoyable few days together in the past are again planned for this year. At the same time, there are a few new additions. In some cases, it is very important that we have as accurate a count as possible in advance. For example, it is essential that we have an accurate count for the YALW reception on Sunday morning.

What this means is, if you plan to attend the Winter Family Weekend (WFW), please take a couple of minutes this week to register and be sure to fill in the areas you plan to participate in. You can find registration information at https://members.cogwa.org/wfw/ or go directly to the registration portal at https://portal.cogwa.org/acct/

Alaska Update:

James Capo, who pastors the congregation in Homer, Alaska, is happy to report that all our members in Alaska have made it through the 7.0 earthquake okay.

“The brethren appreciate everyone’s concern and prayers, and are thankful, of course, that they are all okay.”
